

Greg Minder Biography

Greg set his sights on property development from his early days at the R.M. Rinker Jr School of Construction Management at the University of Florida where he earned his BSBC (Bachelor of Science Construction Management) in 1992 and went directly into a series of progressively more responsible positions in the industry. Early jobs included project management and project development stints at The Walt Disney Company, The St. Joe Company and Holder Properties.

Along the way, Greg Minder earned his MBA from the W. P. Carey School of Business at Arizona State University with a focus on finance. His academic training and real-world experience has enabled him to manage development projects that result in well-built, compelling residential properties on-time, on-budget and importantly meeting investor goals.

In 2004 he founded intowngroup, steadily building his business and his reputation in the Tampa Bay community. intowngroup has completed iconic multi-family urban buildings framing the Tampa cityscape including Meridian, Skypoint, Element, AER and 500 HI. Greg and his intowngroup have several current projects including 500 HI on Harbour Island and Shore Club in St. Petersburg Beach (Downtown Pass A Grille).

His mission is to generate sustainable urban growth by meeting the housing needs of a diverse downtown population, all while preserving the unique heritage and culture of downtown neighborhoods. He extends that mission beyond his own business into serving the greater community at large. He is the chairman of the Tampa Downtown Partnership, a coalition of business and civic leaders working to create a 24-hour urban center where people can learn, live, work and play.
